

Thinking Globally....Acting Locally

Assistant Superintendent, Squamish Terminals

Western Stevedoring is the most diversified stevedoring contractor in BC and operator of Lynnterm, North Vancouver and Squamish Terminals, Squamish, BC. Western also provides terminal and stevedoring services to the break-bulk trade on Vancouver Island and cruise ship services at Ogden Point, Victoria.

Squamish Terminals is a leading break-bulk terminal located in Howe Sound, BC servicing customers in North America and around the world. Squamish Terminals is offering an energetic and experienced individual to play a pivotal support role in the delivery of superintendence services to the business. This Assistant Superintendent, one-year contract, position is a challenging roll that requires the ability to work independently and demonstrate creativity in problem solving in a highly demanding environment. Key areas of focus for this position will be managing manning requirements and dispatch, warehouse and yard storage planning while supporting safe work practices at all times.

The ideal candidate will possess relevant post-secondary education, in-depth knowledge of MS Office products and a minimum of 3 years' work experience in a heavy industry environment; marine preferred. Effective communication and interpersonal skills will support interactions with a wide range of internal and external stakeholders. Labour relations experience and familiarity in working with Collective Agreements will enable the candidate to perform effectively in a unionized environment.

The successful applicant will be offered competitive compensation and a great work environment. To apply, please email your resume and cover letter to hr@westeve.com.